required for it," said a source in the department. The decision, which will be into effect from November 4 according to the order, is aimed at encouraging commercial activities across Bengal so that jobs are created even in remote areas.

The chief minister had said and again promised that 5 crore jobs would be created in the next five years. Hasslefree dealings with government will encourage youths to come forward and set up their ventures even in rural areas. And if small commercial ventures come up in rural areas, it will generate employment for local people...
